Every node is trained at a balanced prior but deployed against a sub-1% node-local prior;
the two base learners miscalibrate in opposite directions